

It's A Puppet Show!

Write a script. The subject is nutrition. Do your research. Create fruit and veggie puppets to populate your puppet show. Decorate a box, any size, smaller than a shoebox to as big as a refrigerator, to make a puppet stage. Use the box for presenting your tale.

Popsicle sticks or strings make good "puppet movers"

Figure out the moral of the story. Have a beginning, middle and end. And if you have a good "punch line" (like a funny pun or joke) to get a laugh - all the better. Have fun and learn good stuff!
